Description

Get ready to turn your classroom or outdoor learning space into a hub of engineering brilliance! The STEM Planks and Ramps are here to inspire budding builders, movers, and shakers. These versatile planks are perfect for encouraging STEM-based thinking through trial and error, creative problem-solving, and collaborative play. Whether your learners are working on rolling felt balls down the grooves, balancing objects on the planks, or experimenting with incline angles, this resource makes physics feel like a playground.
