Description

The Guttering Stands elevate outdoor STEM experiments, offering added height and an easy-grip design perfect for little hands. They encourage exploration of gravity, engineering, and creative play with water, sand, and loose parts. Sturdy and easy to assemble, these stands inspire critical thinking, collaboration, and innovation. Ideal for constructing complex systems, they enhance learning through hands-on experiments. Pair with the Tuff Spot Tray range for even more possibilities, making them a must-have addition to any outdoor learning environment.
